June 1 – 3 Juin, 2011

FREDERICTON, NEW BRUNSWICK

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME/MOT DE BIENVENUE DU PRÉSIDENT

Welcome to the 4th Annual Conference of the Association for Nonprofit and Social Economy Research/Association de recherche sur les organismes sans but lucratif et sur l'économie sociale (ANSER-ARES), June 1 to 3, 2011. This year's conference at the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, involves an exciting mix of presentations in panels and roundtables. On June 1, 4 pm, our keynote speaker is Dr. Jackie Thayer Scott, Professor, Shannon School of Business, Cape Breton University and past president of that university, who will speak on: Reinventing Our Social Economy Organizations: We Can, Must And Should – Even Though It's Hard!

Over lunch on June 1st, at 12.30 just prior to the Annual General Meeting, our community keynote, Mr. James Hughes, Deputy Minister, Social Development, New Brunswick, will present on Overcoming Poverty Together. The AGM that follows is an opportunity to meet members of the association and to voice your views on issues that we should be addressing.

Following Dr. Scott's academic keynote, there will be a joint reception with CASC, circa 5.45, to be held at the Harriet Irving Library 111 (Library Commons). On June 2nd in the evening, we will also hold a joint banquet with CASC at the Crowne Plaza Fredericton Lord Beaverbrook Hotel. Dr. Greg MacLeod, professor emeritus at the University of Cape Breton and community activist, will speak at the banquet. That will be a fun evening and a chance to meet people. However, it is important to sign up in advance ($50).

ANSER-ARES is a grab-bag of researchers from diverse fields who address issues related to nonprofits, co-operatives and the social economy. Many of the researchers are involved in community economic development and related issues such as community organizing. Others focus on social enterprise and social entrepreneurship. One of the issues addressed through ANSER is equity, and on Thursday, June 2nd, over lunch, there will be a special panel, Equity Economic Crisis, sponsored by the Congress.

ANSER-ARES has its own ANSER-ARES has its own dual-language, on-line, open access journal – Canadian Journal of Nonprofit and Social Economy Research/Revue canadienne de recherche sur les OSBL et l'économie sociale (ANSERJ). The link to ANSERJ is <http://www.anserj.ca/index.php/cjnser>, and submissions to the journal in French or English are always welcome.

Our website address is <http://www.anser-ares.ca/>. The website gives basic information about ANSER-ARES such as how to become a member (which might be of interest to people who haven't registered through the Congress), our research grants and awards for student researchers.

A lot has happened since 2008 when we started ANSER-ARES at the Congress at the University of British Columbia. Next year, we plan to hold our fifth conference as part of the Congress at Wilfrid Laurier University and the University of Waterloo. We are proud of what we have accomplished in a short time and look forward to continued growth. There are opportunities for involvement; if you are interested, please let us know.

I would like to close by thanking the members of the conference committee who have very worked hard to organize this year's event: Sherida Ryan (program lead); Luc Theriault (local events organizer); Laurie Mook; Jean-Marc Fontan; Lisa White; and Angela Wisniewski.

Jack Quarter, President, ANSER-ARES

TIPS FOR CHAIRS AND PRESENTERS

ASTUCES POUR LES PRÉSIDENTS ET LES PRÉSENTATEURS

Guidelines for Session Chairs

As session chair it is your responsibility to be in the allocated room at least 10 minutes before the session begins to meet the presenters and ensure that their audio-visual needs are appropriately met. In the time before the audience arrives, make sure that you have some information from all of the presenters about how they would like to be introduced. The order of presentations is set out in the Conference Program.

Each concurrent session is scheduled for 90 minutes. The program has been designed so that in concurrent sessions there will be three or four presenters who will each have 15 minutes to present. The amount of time for questions and clarification will depend on the starting time and time taken for introductions. There should be approximately 15 minutes for general discussion at the end of the session.

During the Session

Introduce the speakers

Monitor time: Provide a 5-minute and 2-minute warning.

Start discussion after the presentations are completed. If there are no questions, have one or two questions ready to ask to get the ball rolling.

Acknowledge and thank speakers and audience for their participation.

Tips for Presenters

Be prepared - you will have 15-20 minutes to present depending on the number of presentation in your session. After five minutes you should be presenting your results.

Know what's important: highlight the most significant findings. Those with an interest in more detail will follow up with questions. Focus on purpose, method, findings and recommendations.

Don't use power point as a virtual text. Highlight a few points which are easy to read and graphically interesting.

Practice your presentation and have any technical equipment ready to go.

State your final conclusions and end on time.
