June 5 Juin – June 7 Juin, 2013
VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA

Welcome to the 6th Annual Conference of the Association for Nonprofit and Social Economy Research/Association de recherche sur les organismes sans but lucratif et sur l'économie sociale (ANSER-ARES), June 5 to 7, 2013. This year's conference at the University of Victoria involves an exciting mix of presentations in panels and roundtables. On Wednesday, June 5th, 4.15 pm, our academic keynote speaker is Dr. Michael Prince, the Lansdowne Professor of Social Policy at the University of Victoria, who will speak on: People with disabilities and employment: If Canada's aging population is a dark cloud, is the social economy a silver lining?

Over lunch on June 5th, at 12.30 just prior to the Annual General Meeting, our community keynote, Michael Lewis, Executive Director, Canadian Centre for Community Renewal, will give a talk titled: From Growth to Resilience: Economic Democracy and the Challenge of Transition. The AGM that follows is an opportunity to meet members of the association and to voice your views on issues that we should be addressing.

Following Dr. Prince's academic keynote, there will be a reception, circa 5.30, to be held at McPherson Library, Biblio Café. On June 6th in the evening, we will hold our annual banquet at the University Club on campus. That will be a fun evening and a chance to meet people. However, it is important to sign up in advance ($50).

ANSER-ARES is a grab-bag of researchers from diverse fields who address issues related to nonprofits, co-operatives and the social economy. Many of the researchers are involved in community economic development and related issues such as community organizing. Others focus on social enterprise and social entrepreneurship. One of the issues addressed through ANSER is community development and on Thursday, June 6th, over lunch, Laura Ryser and Dr. Greg Halseth Rural and Small Town Studies Program, University of Northern British Columbia, will present about: On the Edge in Rural Canada: The Changing Capacity and Role of the Non-Profit Sector.

ANSER-ARES has its own dual language journal – Canadian Journal of Nonprofit and Social Economy Research/Revue canadienne de recherche sur les OSBL et l'économie sociale. It is an online publication produced through the Online Publishing Program at Simon Fraser University. The link is <http://www.anser-ares.ca/anserj.php>

Our website address is <http://www.anser-ares.ca/> The website gives basic information about ANSER-ARES such as how to become a member (which might be of interest to people who haven't registered through the Congress), our research grants and awards for student researchers.

A lot has happened since 2008 when we started ANSER-ARES at the Congress at the University of British Columbia. Next year, we plan to hold our seventh conference as part of the Congress at Brock University in St. Catharines. We are proud of what we have accomplished in a short time and look forward to continued growth. There are opportunities for involvement; if you are interested, please let us know.

Nous vous rappelons qu'il est important de s'inscrire à l'avance (50$).

ARES-ANSER rassemble des chercheurs de différents domaines scientifiques qui travaillent sur un ensemble de sujets liés aux organisations sans but lucratif, aux coopératives et aux entreprises d'économie sociale. Plusieurs des chercheurs sont impliqués dans des projets de recherche portant sur le développement économique communautaire et sur des questions liées à ce champ d'intervention. D'autres chercheurs travaillent dans le domaine des entreprises sociales et de l'entrepreneuriat social. Un des domaines de recherche abordé par l'Association est le développement communautaire et le 6 juin, durant le dîner, Laura Ryser et le Dr. Greg Halseth, du programme d'études sur la ruralité et les petites villes, de l'University of Northern British Columbia, feront une communication sur : On the Edge in Rural Canada: The Changing Capacity and Role of the Non-Profit Sector.

ARES-ANSER dispose d'une revue bilingue – Canadian Journal of Nonprofit and Social Economy Research/Revue canadienne de recherche sur les OSBL et l'économie sociale. Il s'agit d'une publication en ligne produite via le Online Publishing Program at Simon Fraser University. Notre site web est <http://www.anser-ares.ca/> Le site web fournit de l'information de base sur notre association : comment devenir membre, ce qui peut intéresser les personnes qui ne se sont pas enregistrées via le Congrès, et des renseignements sur les prix et les bourses que nous décernons à des étudiants et des étudiantes travaillant sur des sujets liés à la mission de notre organisation.

Depuis le premier Congrès ARES-ANSER qui fut tenu à l'Université de Colombie-Britannique en 2008, beaucoup de choses se sont passées. L'année prochaine nous en serons à la septième édition de notre congrès qui se tiendra à la Brock University à St Catharines (Ontario). Nous sommes fiers de ce qui fut accompli en cinq années, et regardons en avant pour les belles années à venir. Nombre de belles choses nous attendent, si vous voulez vous joindre à nous pour cette importante randonnée, faites-le nous savoir.

TIPS FOR CHAIRS AND PRESENTERS

ASTUCES POUR LES PRÉSIDENTS ET LES PRÉSENTATEURS

Guidelines for Session Chairs

As session chair it is your responsibility to be in the allocated room at least 10 minutes before the session begins to meet the presenters and ensure that their audio-visual needs are appropriately met. In the time before the audience arrives, make sure that you have some information from all of the presenters about how they would like to be introduced. The order of presentations is set out in the Conference Program.

Each concurrent session is scheduled for 90 minutes. The program has been designed so that in concurrent sessions there will be three or four presenters who will each have 15 minutes to present. The amount of time for questions and clarification will depend on the starting time and time taken for introductions. There should be approximately 15 minutes for general discussion at the end of the session.

During the Session

Introduce the speakers

Monitor time: Provide a 5-minute and 2-minute warning.

Start discussion after the presentations are completed. If there are no questions, have one or two questions ready to ask to get the ball rolling

Acknowledge and thank speakers and audience for their participation.

Tips for Presenters

Be prepared - you will have 15-20 minutes to present depending on the number of presentations in your session. After five minutes you should be presenting your results.

Know what's important: highlight the most significant findings. Those with an interest in more detail will follow up with questions. Focus on purpose, method, findings and recommendations.

Don't use power point as a virtual text. Highlight a few points which are easy to read and graphically interesting.

Practice your presentation and have any technical equipment ready to go.

State your final conclusions and end on time.

Centre for Co-operative and Community Based Economy University House 2

June 6th 2013

CASC: CIC Legislature in BC – Stacey Corriveau

1:45 pm to 5 pm

In July, the first legal structure designed specifically for social enterprise will come into force in BC. The Community Contribution Company (or C3) is a taxable corporation with specific features that promote business investment, while protecting C3 assets, and encouraging impacts beyond those of the financial bottom line.

Stacey Corriveau of the BC Centre for Social Enterprise is an advocate for enabling hybrid structures for social enterprise success. In this session, funded by the Vancouver Foundation, she will outline the features and benefits of the new C3 option, within the context of existing legal structures that may also house social enterprise. She will also present an interesting 'workaround' for non-profits that may currently be structurally limited in the area of intentional profit generation.

Pre-SEWF Conference Research Day

From Bridging to Bonding: Examining the social enterprise research-practice continuum

Mount Royal University and Simon Fraser University in collaboration with the Social Enterprise World Forum

Location: Mount Royal University, Calgary

The Institute for Nonprofit Studies at Mount Royal University and Simon Fraser University are co-hosting a research day in collaboration with the Social Enterprise World Forum (SEWF-2013). We want to take advantage of researchers and practitioners who will be coming to Calgary from around the world to explore the multiple connections between social enterprise research and practice.

Too often practitioners and researchers find themselves on either side of a linguistic, technical, and cultural divide. Yet it must be acknowledged that practice draws on research findings and research rarely occurs in isolation from practice. How then can this relationship be explored in a way that honours the contribution of both researchers and practitioners? This dedicated research day will address four themes:

- Conducting social enterprise research in partnerships
- Social enterprise and the university: roles, responsibilities, and challenges
- Policy research for social enterprise: an international perspective
- What drives innovation in social enterprise?

Fee: $150.00 before September 1

$200.00 after September 1

Registration will be available by the end of June via www.ticketweb.ca

CASC: Législature CIC en Colombie-Britannique - Stacey Corriveau

13:45-17 heures

En Juillet, la première entité juridique conçue spécifiquement pour les entreprises sociales entrera en fonction en Colombie-Britannique. La Société de la contribution communautaire (Community Contribution Company) (ou C3) est une société imposable avec des caractéristiques particulières qui favorisent l'investissement des entreprises, tout en protégeant les actifs des C3. La création de ces entités favorise les retombées qui dépassent la seule question de l'équilibre financier.

Stacey Corriveau du Centre for Social Enterprise en Colombie-Britannique est une militante pour la création des structures hybrides favorisant la réussite de l'entreprise sociale. Dans cette session, financée par la Fondation Vancouver, elle décrira les caractéristiques et les avantages de la nouvelle structure parmi les structures juridiques existantes qui peuvent également accueillir les entreprises sociales. Elle présentera également une solution de rechange intéressante pour les organismes sans but lucratif qui peuvent être actuellement limités structurellement dans le secteur de la génération intentionnelle de profits.

Lieu: University Mount Royal, Calgary

L'Institute for Nonprofit Studies à l'Université Mount Royal et l'Université Simon Fraser coorganisent une journée de la recherche en collaboration avec le Forum mondial de l'Entreprise Sociale (SEWF-2013).

Nous voulons profiter de la venue de chercheurs et de praticiens du monde entier à Calgary dans le but d'explorer les multiples liens entre la recherche et la pratique dans le secteur de l'entreprise sociale.

Trop souvent, les praticiens et les chercheurs se trouvent de chaque côté d'une frontière linguistique, technique et culturelle. Pourtant, il faut reconnaître que la pratique s'appuie sur les connaissances issues de la recherche et la recherche peut difficilement être totalement isolée de la pratique.

Comment explorer cette relation de façon à reconnaître la contribution des chercheurs et des praticiens? Cette journée thématique de la recherche abordera quatre thèmes:

- Le partenariat dans la recherche sur l'entreprise sociale
- Les entreprises sociales et l'université: les rôles, les responsabilités et défis
- recherche sur les politiques de l'entreprise sociale: une perspective internationale
- Quels sont les facteurs d'innovation dans l'entreprise sociale?

Frais: 150.00 $ avant le 1er septembre, $ 200,00 après le 1er septembre

Il sera possible de s'inscrire d'ici à la fin de juin via www.ticketweb.ca
