Dissertation Awards

Award for the Outstanding Thesis for at the Master's or Doctoral Levels

The Association for Nonprofit and Social Economy Research (ANSER) is a Canadian association for those who have an interest in research that pertains broadly to nonprofit organizations and the social economy. The association's objectives include:

- Building a collaborative community of scholars and researchers; and
- Developing a Canadian body of knowledge that encompasses such fields as community economic development, philanthropy, nonprofit management, volunteering, social and environmental accounting, government/voluntary sector relationships, social movements, citizen engagement, and civil society.

To encourage and support these objectives, ANSER makes awards annually for outstanding Masters and Doctoral theses. Students who have completed and/or defended their dissertations in the three calendar years prior to the year the award is given are eligible to apply for it. Nominations should explain the nature of the work and how well it contributes to advancement of theory, research, and practice in any aspect of study related to the nonprofit sector or the social economy.

The award review committee judges each nominated thesis on several criteria including:

- The significance of the problem it addresses;
- The strength of evidence it presents; and
- The relevance of its conclusions to the mission of ANSER-ARES.

The committee also will consider the soundness of methodology and quality of writing and argument, along with the nominating letter(s). Award includes: Award Certificate, free registration to the ANSER-ARES Conference, and publication of a paper based upon the thesis in ANSER Journal.

Award Nomination Instructions:

The director or supervisor of the nominee's thesis committee must submit nominations as one PDF file. This PDF file must include:

4. One additional letter of recommendation (preferably from a thesis committee member), 2 pages maximum that addresses the award criteria contained in the description and mission statement above is permitted.

Nominees should be prepared to send a copy of the full dissertation upon request. Winners of the two awards will receive a certificate, free registration for the ANSER Conference and be honored guests at the Annual Banquet of the Association at which the awards will be presented.
